We've gone beyond the brick & mortar of the classroom ...

to offer a learning tool for the office, or even on the job!

Lochinvar is a leader in the hydronic industry and can attribute some of that success to our efforts in offering outstanding training opportunities for our customers. Lochinvar has focused efforts on training within the industry since the company was founded in 1919.

In our modern University facility at our world headquarters in Lebanon, TN, we continue this tradition with a full schedule of classes covering the range of products we sell. Topics covered in the classroom include installation considerations, operating parameters and maintenance procedures. Time is allotted for a hands-on lab session, interactive control simulators and of course, plenty of time to speak one-on-one with our technical trainers.

Now, to complement our learning culture and meet the increasing mobile needs of our customers, Lochinvar has built LochinvarU™, an online learning management system. Our online training topics mirror those presented in the classroom and are growing into supplemental areas such as basic electrical troubleshooting and gas pipe sizing. The interface is easy to navigate and the training content is organized into overall programs, product line courses, and individual materials. Certificates of Completion and Continuing Education hours are available.

Admission to LochinvarU™ requires approval by a member of our sales team, which is as easy as a phone call or email. You may use the Sales Rep Locator tool on Lochinvar.com for contact information and quick links to your local representative.

Visit Lochinvar.com for more information about our in-house, University class schedule which is located in the "Training" section of the company website.
