Fulton's Newest Product: Endura +

We are excited to introduce to you Fulton's newest condensing hydronic firetube boiler the Endura +. This boiler will be the most advanced condensing boiler on the market with our new exclusive Pure Technology. Pure Technology is a "clean slate" design approach moving towards optimizing our heating transfer and design principles. Fulton's engineers moved past previously used designs to create the best boiler solutions. In Pure Technology the Research and Development team reduced thermal stresses, created a more compact footprint, and brought turndown ratios up. These are only a few improvements of the new enhanced designs. Currently holding over 30 new patent applications worldwide, Fulton's team worked hard to created these new boilers.

The Endura + is a little larger than the Endura with sizes ranging from 2,500,00 to 6,000,000 BTU/hr. Currently we are only letting the world see the 2,500,000 to 3,000,000 BTU/hr boilers.

Fun Fact

Apples, not caffeine, are more efficient at waking you up in the morning. So tomorrow instead of grabbing a cup of coffee grab an apple instead. An apple a day keeps the doctor away and keeps you awake!
